I'm a creative, detail-oriented designer with hands-on experience in both 3D modeling and graphic design. Proficient in tools like Blender, Photoshop, and Illustrator, I craft visually engaging assets for games, branding, and digital media. My 3D work focuses on modeling and texturing, while my graphic design projects highlight strong layout, typography, and storytelling skills. I've completed a range of freelance and personal projects that demonstrate my adaptability and design thinking. I'm passionate about blending artistic vision with technical execution to bring ideas to life. I'm currently looking to join a creative team in gaming, animation, or digital marketing where I can grow and contribute meaningfully.
